

Bespoke Diving Services - Student Agreement

I _____, currently enrolled in the training course _____, conducted by Roger F. Williams, Bespoke Diving Services, or any affiliated instructors, understand and agree to the following:

1. My fee for training is due two weeks previous to the start of class and that the entirety of this fee is non-refundable for any reason.
2. My fee does not include materials, travel expenses, entrance fees, consumables, charter fees, or other related expenses outside of classroom or in-water training advice.
3. The training I am taking place in may be delayed and/or cancelled due to weather conditions, dive site closures, charter cancellations, equipment malfunctions (either my own and my instructor's), sickness, medical emergencies, delays in shipment or procurement of equipment, materials and/or consumables, or otherwise unforeseen events. Bespoke Diving Services will make every effort to accommodate student's who are unable to attend training dates, however, it is at Bespoke Diving Services discretion as to how this will take place. Additionally, we reserve the right to charge an additional daily fee of $250, plus expenses, for additional training days required due to delay.
4. All I am paying for is training and advice; certification may be earned but is not guaranteed.
5. The instructor reserves the right to terminate training or withhold certification at their own discretion if they deem the student's performance or attitude insufficient to conduct post training dives safely.
6. I authorize Bespoke Diving Services to use, in whole or in part, my name, likeness, image, voice, biography, interview, and performance in connection with all training, in all manner and media, as Bespoke Diving Services shall determine in its sole discretion.
7. My instructor reserves the right to require additional skills and/or performance levels beyond the minimum standards listed by dive training agencies.
8. Due to logistics, I may be unsupervised in my possession of equipment or gasses during storage and transport before and/or during training and before certification is provided. I understand that the uncertified use of certain compressed gases, conducting dives requiring mandatory decompression obligations, diving in overhead environments, or the usage of a Closed Circuit Rebreather, outside of the instructor's supervision, and beyond my current level of certification, constitutes a breach of trust and training standards and that in doing so Bespoke Diving Services reserves the right to refuse continuation of training at the loss of the entirety of my training fees.
9. I understand what dives the certification level I am seeking to obtain allows me to conduct outside of training and that I will not exceed the standards that said certification level allows once I have earned my certification.
